The legal stuff. section 5 – direct credit request terms and conditions.

By completing and signing this Direct Credit Request form you agree and acknowledge that:

- (a) if there are sufficient cleared funds in your ME account we will withdraw the requested amount from that account and send payment to your nominated account on each day a withdrawal is to be made in accordance with your Direct Credit Request. We are not responsible for any delay in processing that payment by the financial institution at which your nominated account is held;
- (b) it is your responsibility to:
 - ensure that there are sufficient cleared funds in your ME account on a day a withdrawal is to be made in accordance with your Direct Credit Request;
 - check that the details you have provided us of your nominated account are correct by checking them against a recent account statement;
 - advise us if your nominated account is transferred, closed or if any other account details change; and
 - check your account statement to verify that the amounts withdrawn from your ME account are correct;
- (c) if there are insufficient cleared funds in your ME account on a day a withdrawal is to be made in accordance with your Direct Credit Request, we:
 - are not required to make any payment to your nominated account;
 - may make the payment to your nominated account when sufficient cleared funds are available (but we are not obliged to do this); and
 - are not liable for any loss you may suffer as a result of any failure or delay in payment to your nominated account;
- (d) if a day on which we are to make a payment to your nominated account in accordance with your Direct Credit Request is a public holiday, a Saturday or a Sunday, we may make the payment on the next business day; and
- (e) we may stop acting in accordance with your Direct Credit Request at any time:
 - without notice to you if the financial institution at which your nominated account is held refuses to accept our payments; or
 - by sending you written notice.

Ignore this bit. ME use only.
